The bidder who initiates the question will not be identified. Technical questions that are considered proprietary by the bidder must be clearly identified. NRC will respond individually to the bidder if it considers the questions proprietary. If NRC does not consider the question proprietary, the bidder submitting it will be allowed to withdraw the question, or have the question and answer made available through the Open Bidding System (OBS) to all bidders.

Bidders who attempt to obtain information regarding any aspect of this RFP during the solicitation period through any NRC contacts other than the Contracting Authority identified herein, may be disqualified (for that reason alone).

Documents accepted: Equipment number, market year or purchase order.

1.12. The lathe must be covered by a full manufacturer's warranty, including lathe, electrical system and controls, for 1 year or 8760 hours, whichever comes first.

2. Installation

- 2.1 The contractor must deliver the unit to the location specified in the contract at the CTA site in Saguenay.
- 2.2 Under the supervision of NRC employees, the contractor must be responsible for handling and rigging the equipment until its final place of installation with the use of the NRC crane as required, provided that staff members have the required qualifications and that their training is up to date.
- 2.3 The contractor must dispose of the equipment packaging and leave the site clean.
 NRC is responsible for making the electrical and pneumatic connections (according to the specifications provided by the contractor).

2.4 The contractor must perform full commissioning of the unit and provide basic training.

3. Manuals

5. Maintenance and support services

The equipment supplier must provide the parts and labour support for a minimum of 2 years after the equipment is installed, within 5 business days after the initial service request is received.

6.1 Equipment Compliance

Use of electrical equipment provided by the contractor under this contract must be certified or approved prior to delivery by an organization accredited by the Standards Council of Canada in accordance with Part 1 of the Canadian Electrical Code.

6.2 Quality assurance and verification of certification

The contractor is required to provide proof (certificate of compliance or field assessment report) of the certification for each piece of electrical equipment delivered under this contract. The proof must come from a certification organization accredited by the Standards Council of Canada (read Recognized Canadian Electrical Safety Marks and Labels - Standards Council of Canada for more information).

If electrical equipment does not meet the required certification standards, the contractor may have a reasonable period of time to rectify the situation at its expense. If it is unable to do so during the specified period, the equipment delivery will be refused, and the equipment will be returned to the contractor's address at its expense. Electrical equipment must be fully certified, or the Canadian government could terminate the contract for default.
